PEEKSKILL.

After a recess extending over a period of six weeks, the Board of Trustees of this village will probably hold a meeting this evening.

The Board of Education of Union Free School District No. 8. Oakside, will meet this evening. There will be a collector of taxes and a truant officer appointed, if any candidate can be agreed upon. The Board has become Democratic by the election of Dr. Mason in place of A. R. Free, at the last school meeting, and there is some clashing over ap-pointments. The present collector is Orrin J. Loder, and the truant officer Schuyler Lent, both ardent Republicans. There is a grave question as to their reappointment. Eugene B. Hill, a Democrat, is speken of for the collectorship, and Robert P. Fox, an ex-constable, is the candidate for truant

This retreat will close next Saturday, and a second retreat will begin on August 24, which will also be conducted by a Jesuit Father. Bishop Parley will preside at this retreat, which will end on August 29.

TARRYTOWN.

The interclub tennis tournament, which has been carried on for the last three Saturdays between the carried on for the last life Saturdays Sector S.cepy Hollow Club, of this place, and the Yonkers Tennis Club, has awakened so much interest in the game in these two clubs that a new move is now under discussion. It has been proposed that each of the clubs appropriate a certain amount of money with which to buy a banner, to be the property of the club which to buy a barner, to be the property of the scring the greatest number of points in a given time. The suggestion has been made to hold annually a "round robin" tournament, such as has just been finished, for three seasons, at the end of which time the club having the greatest number shall have as its inished, for three seasons, at the end of which this the club having the greatest number shall have as its property the bannes. The interest in tennis along the river seems this year to have died out to some extent, and it is hoped that this move will revive interest in the game. It is likely that a committee from each club will meet shortly to discuss the matter and take such action as seems advisable.

The interclub tennis tournament between teams from the Yonkers Tennis Club and the Sleepy Hollow Club, of this place, ended last Saturday. The local players scored ten points in the tournament to six for Yonkers.

ELMSFORD.

The third public meeting of the citizens of Eastern Greenburg, in regard to the proposed extension of the White Plains trolley line to Tarrytown, was held at Elmsford last night. The people of the district want the trolley to a man, and want it bad, but Messrs. Landers, Ward and Diveny, the Comnissioners of Highways, have demanded of the trolley company conditions in granting a franchise that the trolley people have not been willing to accept the trolley people have not been willing to accept for the mile and a half of country road through which the trolley was to pass in the town. The Commissioners wanted concessions that would have done credit to a pepulous village. At the meeting held on Monday night of last week, the people, the Highway Commissioners and the railway company were believed to have come to agreements satisfactory to all hands, and it was understood at that time that a franchise would be given to the company on the following day. As the franchise was not given on that day, the people determined to find out the reason why, and so another indignation meeting was called for last night. At 8 o'clock about 300 taxpayers assembled at the Worthington Arms Hotel. In an upper room James H. Moran, the treasurer, and R. E. Slade, the general manager, representing the trolley company, and Highway Commissioners Landers and Ward, and their law-yer, F. V. Millard, of Tarrytown, met for the purpose of making a final agreement about the franchise, it was after 9 o'clock before James H. Moran, of the trolley company, announced to the citizens that a franchise hald been agreed upon, with conditions perfectly satisfactory to all hands. The announcement was received with cheers and with a vote of thanks to the Commissioners.

MOUNT VERNON.

The charges of Mayor Fiske against Dr. F. W Shipman, the Health Officer, were heard last night at a special meeting of the Common Council. There were two charges, one for absenting himself from the city for five days without the permission of the Board of Health or Common Council, and the other accusing him of not keeping the instruments, etc., in proper condition. The charges were prosecuted by Corporation Counsel Swits, and Frank M. Tichenor represented Dr. Shipman. The Board of Health, the Commissioners, Coroner Banning, Dr. Bertine and others were called as witnesses. Dr. Shipman proved that he had written a letter to Alderman Fletcher requesting him to give notice to the other Aldermen that he was about to leave the city, and that he had arranged with Dr. Bertine to perform the duties of his office in his absence. His claims were substantiated by the witnesses, and after a few moments spent in executive session the Common Council voted to dismiss the charges by a vote of 8 to 1. ### SUIT AGAINST T. ADAMS. JR.

MISS MYRTLE THURLOW, AN ACTRESS, ASKS $100,000 FOR ALLEGED BREACH OF PROMISE.

Thomas Adams, jr., son and partner of the wealthy manufacturer of chewing-gum, is defendant in a suit for breach of promise brought in the Supreme Court by Miss Myrtle Thurlow, a Brooklyn actress. Miss Thurlow asks for $100,000 as halm for her alleged wounded feelings. Mr. Adams lives in a handsome house at Eighth-ave, and Carroll st., Brooklyn; is about fifty years old, has been married twenty-five years, and has three grown children, two sons and a daughter. Miss Florence, the daughter, is about twenty years old, and has been out in society only for a year or so. Mr. Adams is a member of the Montauk and other clubs, and is one of the founders of Bergen Beach, being treasurer of the Bergen Beach Company. The plaintiff is twenty-two years old, and lives with her mother in a neat brick house in Russell Adams promised to marry her, in letters and in words, before and after she discovered that he was a married man. Miss Thurlow alleges that she was seventeen years old when she first met Mr, Adams. She is rather undersized, but decidedly pretty, and is well known on the "continuance per

"I do not like to talk about this case," she said yesterday, "and although the papers were served five months ago, I have said nothing up to this But I hear that Mr. Adams is suggesting blackmall, and I decided to speak in justice to

She exhibited, as evidence in her case, a heartshaped gold locket, upon which was inscribed "Tom to Myrtle, May 15, 1894." On the inside was the picture of a man, a picture that closely resembles the well-known features of Mr. Adams Extending her hand she exhibited a ring, set with two diamonds and three garnets, which she alleged was a gift from Mr. Adams, and she added that she had 100 letters from him, full of such terms of endearment as "My Little Chic" and "My Little Rosebud," and signed "Your King."

Miss Thurlow says she was serving an engage ment to advertise the Adams chewing gum, in a According to her complaint, it was a case of love at first sight with the defendant, and letters and flowers began "coming thick." She alleges that he had followed her to Philadelphia and Boston, when she filled engagements at those places, that he was a frequenter of Proctor's Twenty-thirdst. Theatre when she was employed there, and that she had witnesses who had seen him kiss her and call her his promised wife.

Miss Thurlow's mother, with whom she lives in the Russell Place house, said that she had believed at the start that Mr. Adams's intentions were thoroughly honorable. Miss Thurlow said that the papers in the case were served five months ago on Mr. Adams, in the postoffice, by two detectives, to whom she had given his picture. She said that Mr. Adams's answer to her suit, made through Jere Wernberg, was a general denial. In one of the letters she declared that Mr. Adams compared her to Trilby, and himself to Little Billee, and declared that his love was as constant as that of Little Billee.

Miss Thurlow is represented by ex Senator Thomas C. O'Sullivan. Mr. O'Sullivan refused to discuss the case yesterday, and said that his client had violated his instructions in talking about it. He said, however, that the suit had been brought and the answer filed. Mr. Adams, fr., was out of the city last night, or at least it was so said at his home. But earlier in the day he was quoted as saying at his factory in Sands-st.:

"I don't even known who Miss Thurlow is. Never met such a lady."

It is a singular coincidence that papers have recently been filed in a suit against Victor Williams, son of Percy G. Williams, who, with Mr. Adams, ir., are the two largest owners of stock in the Bergen Beach Company. This suit is likewise brought by a Brooklyn actress, Miss Gertrude Reynolds, Miss Reynolds, however, does not sue for breach of promise, but alleges that while paying her attentions at Bath Beach, Mr. Williams opened a letter to her from another young man. She asks for $5,000 damages. Miss Thurlow's mother, with whom she lives

A PERFECT AUGUST DAY.

YHSTERDAY'S DELIGHTFUL WEATHER LIKELY TO CONTINUE SEVERAL DAYS. A perfect August day-what more can be said in describing the weather of yesterday? It was a refreshing change and heartily welcomed after the sweltering and suffocating heat from which New-York suffered for ten days. And the best part of it is that the glorious weather is not too good to last, and the promise is made of several more such days as yesterday.

The generous rain of Sunday night made an end of the hot spell, which had already begun to break up, and brought with it cool and pleasant weather. For the first time in nearly two weeks the dwellers in the city were able to enjoy a night of unbroken rest and a liberal amount of bed-covering was not unwelcome.

Mr. Dunn was in a happy frame of mind yester-"The present cool wave is caused by an area of high pressure over the West, being centred over Western Minnesota. The temperature is low over the New-England, Middle Atlantic and Northern States, but it is still warm along the Gulf coast. It is generally fair everywhere. I believe we can count on several more days of as perfect weather as that of to-day, as there is no hot weather in sight. For the next few days it will be fair and cool, with northwesterly winds."

The weather expert thought that the least said about the recent hot spell the better, but he hastened to add that he believed there would not be another season of great heat this year.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the official ther mometer registered 63 degrees, and the mercury gradually rose, until at 4 p. m. it touched 74, the gradually rose, until at 4 p. m. it touched 4, the highest point reached in the day. It then gradually dropped until the temperature was only 65 degrees at le p. m. The humidity was rather high in the early morning hours, but it soon went down to the nominal, which is about 65. At 8 a. m. the humidity was 85, and at 8 p. m. It was 67. A stiff breeze from the northwest blew throughout the day.

The advent of the cool wave had a marked effect.

The forecast for to-day is fair and cooler. The advent of the cool wave had a marked effect on the excursion boats, which for the last ten days have been crowded daily. Few of them carried even ordinary crowds yesterday. People thought that it could be no more comfortable at the scashore than it was right here in New-York, and consequently they stayed at home.

IS FELDMAN AN ANARCHIST?

HIS WIFE'S STORIES ABOUT HIM-A HIGH EX-PLOSIVE IN HIS POSSESSION.

Naum Feldman, the druggist of No. 1,951 Secondave., who was arrested on Sunday by Detective Golderman, of the East One-hundred-and-fourth-st. station, on a charge of threatening to shoot his wife, Yetta, and their five-months-old baby, was arraigned before Magistrate Mott at the Harlem Court yesterday morning and was held in $2,500 bail for trial. Feldman, who is a man of dark complexion, twentyeight years old, and speaks broken English, was calm and self-possessed. He talked rationally and did not appear the insane man which his wife declares him to

When Mrs. Feldman made her complaint at the station on Friday she handed Captain Westervelt an eight-ounce phial of what has since proved to be a high explosive, and she said that it was made by her husband for the avowed purpose of blowing up the Fifth Avenue Hotel. She said he was an Anarchist and she believed him to be a member of an Anarchist organization.

At the arraignment yesterday Mrs. Feldman said that on Friday her husband, in a fit of rage, had taken a loaded revolver from a trunk and, pointing it at her, had threatened to kill her and her baby. Before he could use the weapon she ran into the street and did not return to the house until after the neighbors had pacified him and he had given up the rebors had pacified him and he had given up the revolver and promised not to harm her. She said that she was married seventeen months ago, and that soon after the marriage her husband had seemed to be insane. Since the birth of the baby he had become worse, and had often threatened to kill them both, although he had never made the attempt until last Friday. She told the Magistrate that both herself and her husband were free thinkers and that their marriage was merely an agreement to live together. In speaking of the explosives, Mrs. Feldman said her husband had often spoken of his intention to blow up the Fifth Avenue Hotel, as it was the headquarters of capital and capitalists. Sometimes he said, she declared, that he would take a room there and blow himself up, too. She knew of no confederate.

and blow himself up, too. She knew of no confederate.

Feldman denied all that his wife had said. He swore that the explosive had been entrusted to his care by General Roiff, a Cuban insurgent, for use in the Cuban struggle for Independence. He said that he did not threaten to kill his wife and baby, and that the revolver was not loaded. He alleged that his wife, believing that he was about to desert her, used this means to keep him in this country. His people, he said, were wealthy grain merchants in Odessa, Russia. It was there that he studied chemistry, he said. He declares that he was at one time a soldier in the Russian Army. He was formerly employed in a drug store at Pike and Henry sts. A detective found in the cellar of his house a galvanie battery and other apparatus which are said to belong to him. Captain Westervelt is trying to discover whether Feldman ever had any connection with any body of Anarchists.

ever had any connection with any body of Anarchists.

When Feldman was searched in the prison it was found that he carried a miniature drug store and arsenal about with him. In one pocket was a phial containing twenty-eight one-fourth-grain morphine pills: in another six more wrapped in a plece of newspaper, and another half-dozen in the sweathand of his hat. A dozen 32-calibre cartridges were in another pocket, and in still another pocket six more cartridges. The cartridges are of the same calibre as the revolver which he is said to have threatened to shoot his wife with.

In explaining the presence of all this deadly material, Feldman said that the morphine was for his insemnia and nervousness, and that he had found the cartridges in his wife's trunk and had taken them away, as she did not know how to use a revolver.

Nearly all of the lodges are represented, either by the regular delegate or his Many of the visiting Odd Fellows are staying at the Continental Hotel, but all the meetings will be held in Scottish Rite Hall.

The session will open this morning at 9 o'clock, and the order of business w'll be: The appointment of the committees on credentials, on the grand lodge degree and on the election of grand officers; Degree, the introduction of the candidates for that degree, and the conferring of the degrees upon the candidates. Then will follow the reports of various candidates. Then will follow the reports of various officers, and the appointment of the standing committees by the Grand Master, when a recess will be taken until Wednesday. This afternoon and evening the delegates will be the guests of the Greater New-York lodges at Ulmer Park, Gravesend, where will be held a clam bake and a summernight's festival. The chief feature of Wednesday's programme will be the election of the grand officers.

Among the prominent Odd Fellows in attendance at the session are Grand Sire John W. Stebbins, of Rochester, Past Grand Sire John W. Stebbins, of Rochester, Past Grand Sire John W. Stebbins, of Yonkers, and these officers of the Grand Lodge of the State: Grand Master A. A. Guthrie, of Albany; Deputy Grand Master S. J. Pesoa, of this city; Grand Warden Hiram M. Olmsted, of Corning, Grand Secretary J. G. Dubert, of this city; Grand Treasurer C. A. Wehr, of Brooklyn; Representatives Jacob Stern and G. W. Dilkes. Others present are Past Grand Masters F. W. From The Montreal Witness. In solling railway tickets to various points, the ticket agents in the Grand Trunk depoi are doing quite an extensive business in the money exchange line. Ever since the leginning of this month there has been a general manifestation on the part of Montrealers and Canadians in general of repugnance toward United States coins-those greasy, misshapen, defaced, poor-metalled coins which have done duty as silver across the border. The antipathy toward them took a practical turn first among the streetear conductors. Now it is general in Montreal, and a man with an alleged silver dollar in his possession has a white elephant on his hands. The result is that many people who have a few United States coins they wish to get rid of go to the Grand Trunk depot and get Canadian silver for them.

Down they come from $5, $6.50, $8, $9 and $10-to $3.50.

go to the Grand Trunk depot and get Canadian silver for them.

"It is getting to be a nuisance," remarked one of the ticket agents this morning; "people take us for exchange brokers and thrust their defaced Yankee coins at us and demand Canadian money in exchange, as if we were obliged to accommodate them. I am afraid that Canada is being made the dumping ground of all the old American coins. Canadian employes from the cotton mills and brickyards in the States are constantly bringing in pockets full of the metal and circulating it in Montreal. I don't see why Canadians should take United States coins. Americans, especially in the Southern States, will not have anything to do with Canadian money, whether bills or silver, except at a very heavy discount, and yet Canada is literally flooded with cheap American money."

The butchers, bakers, grocers and, in fact, all the tradesmen of the city have joined the crusade against the foreign coin. Some of them have gone so far as to refuse United States bills as well as coin.
The banks and all leading business houses of the city of Guebec have announced that they will take no more United States sliver on any consideration.

SAVINGS BANKS PROSPER.

FACTS TAKEN FROM THEIR ANNUAL RE-PORTS IN THIS STATE.

SUPERINTENDENT KILBURN ISSUES A STATE-MENT SHOWING INCREASED RESOURCES AND DEPOSITS FOR LAST YEAR.

Albany, Aug. 17.-Frederick D. Kilburn, Superintendent of the State Banking Department, tabulated the reports of the 127 savings banks in the State, showing their financial operations for the year ended on June 20, 1896. This tabulation shows that, compared with the year ended on June 30, 1895, the total resources of the savings banks of the State have increased $44,240,195; the amount due depositors has increased $45,766.883, the surplus has decreased $1,455,352, the number of depositors has increased 77,365, the amount of deposits made during the year has increased $16,880,859, the amount of deposits withdrawn during the year has increased $11,665,196, the amount of interest credited depositors during the year has increased $1,564,458, and the current expenses for the banks have increased

The following figures are taken from the tables of Superintendent Kilburn; Total resources, $906,751,426; due depositors, July 1, 1896, $715,002,899; other Habilities, $41,157; surplus, July 1, 1896, $91,307,370; number of depositors, July 1, 1896, 1,732,382; number of accounts opened during the year, 346,147; number of accounts closed during the year, 28,189; amount of deposits received, $215,490,558; amount of deposits withdrawn, $194,652,383; amount of interest credited depositors, $24,258,727; current expenses of the banks,

In speaking of the operations of the savings banks of the State, Superintendent Kilburn to-day

Next to the tremendous resources which these reports reveal, perhaps the most impressive of the figures quoted are those showing that more than one in four of the population of the State, or, to be more exact, 25½ per cent, are depositors in the savings banks, and that their money is received, invested and cared for at the low cost of 3 1-3 mills ner $1$ per year.

This publication makes it opportune, especially in view of recent attacks upon the savings-banks system, to state facts which cannot be too strongly emphasized. Our savings banks are distinctively beneving the savings organized and supervised merely tem, to state facts which cannot be too strongly emphasized. Our savings banks are distinctively benevolent institutions, organized and supervised merely from philanthropic methods, with the aim of stimulating frugality and thrift on the part of the poorer people. The law expressly requires the State Superintendent of Banks to satisfy himself that a proposed bank would be "a public benefit" before it can be authorized and also to ascertain that its proposed trustees are men of responsibility, character and general fluness for the discharge of their duties. This it is the unvarying practice of the Superintendent to do with great care and thoroughness, and also to require such trustees to execute an agreement that they themselves will defray the expenses of a bank until such time as it returns 3½ per cent net to its depositors.

No trustee or officer of a savings bank may have any interest, direct or indirect, in the gains or profits thereof, nor receive any pay for his services, except for regular and faithful attendance at the institution; nor, directly or indirectly, for himself or as agent or partner of others, borrow any of its funds or deposits, or in any manner use the same except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the Board of Trustees. Moreover, a trustee must not become an indorser or surety, or become in any manner an obligor, for moneys loaned by or borrowed of such corporation. All of the restrictions of the law look to insuring only absolutely safe investments and to the prevention of losses in any direction.

In a word, moderate returns, with the utmost possible security, are the aim of the system, with every gain, even to the minutest fraction, accruing to the benefit of the depositor. The surplus cannot exceed if per cent of the deposits without necessitating the division of the excess among the depositors as an extra dividend, and the accumulation of a surplus at all is permitted only as a master of safety to meet the exigency of depreciation of securities in times

STATEN ISLAND HAPPENINGS.

The police yesterday made an investigation of the circumstances attending the alleged prizefight which was supposed to have taken place on board a schooner at South Beach on Sunday, and discovered that they were in error so far as the fight was concerned. As the Tottenville police did not succeed in intercepting the vessel on Sunday night, the police concluded that she had sought anchor at another point. Yesterday a policeman was sent to New-Jersey with orders to look up the principals in the supposed fight. The policeman discovered that the schooner's crew was composed of the officers and employes of the Terra Cotta and Lumber Company of Boynton Beach. They were on their annual excursion, and, it was explained, had a bar aboard the schooner. To shield the bar from the beach the suspicious canvas was stretched. bers explained their hasty flight by saying that they thought they were to be arrested for violation of the excise laws, and did not want to spend a of the excise laws, and did not want to spend a night in jail.
